2. Selected Results

| USD billions | Q2 2026 | Q2 2025 | YoY |
|---|---|---|---|
| Revenue | 1.31 | 1.16 | 12.9% |
| Net income | 0.30 | 0.26 | 15.4% |
| Assets / AUM | 81.2 | 76.0 | 6.8% |
| Operating expense | 0.71 | 0.68 | 4.4% |

3. Management Discussion

Quarterly performance reflected loan growth, improving deposit mix, and continued fee momentum. Provision expense was $80 million as management maintained a measured allowance for credit deterioration in selected commercial real estate portfolios. Digital account opening increased 28% from the prior year, while internal AI-assisted service tools reduced average handling time by 11%.

4. Segment results

| Segment | Revenue | Operating contribution |
|---|---|---|
| Commercial Banking | 0.56 | 0.14 |
| Consumer & Digital | 0.35 | 0.09 |
| Wealth Advisory | 0.24 | 0.06 |
| Corporate/Other | 0.16 | 0.01 |

5. Risk factors and liquidity

Credit quality in commercial real estate remains the primary balance-sheet sensitivity, particularly for office properties in secondary markets.

Management believes current liquidity and capital resources are sufficient to meet anticipated operating needs, contractual obligations, and planned investment requirements. The principal sources and uses of liquidity are monitored through weekly treasury and risk committee processes.

6. Subsequent Events

In July 2026, the company approved additional investment in data governance and AI model monitoring. No material acquisition or financing transaction occurred between quarter end and the date of this synthetic report.

7. Selected Notes

Revenue recognition, impairment, credit-loss provisioning, and asset valuations are presented using simplified US GAAP-style concepts for training purposes. Figures are synthetic and may not sum due to rounding.
