2. Selected Results

| USD billions | Q2 2026 | Q2 2025 | YoY |
|---|---|---|---|
| Revenue | 1.02 | 0.90 | 13.3% |
| Net income | 0.27 | 0.23 | 17.4% |
| AUM | 10.4 | 9.5 | 9.5% |
| Net new assets | 118 | 84 | 40.5% |
| Adjusted operating margin | 41.2% | 39.2% | +2.0 pts |

3. Management Discussion

Quarterly performance benefited from higher average AUM and net new assets in private markets and fixed income. Active equity experienced modest net outflows, but retention improved among institutional accounts. The company expanded research automation pilots while retaining human review for material client communications and investment decisions.

4. Segment results

| Segment | Revenue | Operating contribution |
|---|---|---|
| Public Markets | 0.56 | 0.15 |
| Private Markets | 0.28 | 0.09 |
| Wealth & Advisory | 0.12 | 0.04 |
| Corporate/Other | 0.06 | (0.01) |

5. Risk factors and liquidity

Fee pressure, client outflows in active strategies, and changes in market valuations can reduce management fees and operating leverage.

Management believes current liquidity and capital resources are sufficient to meet anticipated operating needs, contractual obligations, and planned investment requirements. The principal sources and uses of liquidity are monitored through weekly treasury and risk committee processes.

6. Subsequent Events

In July 2026, the company approved additional investment in data governance and AI model monitoring. No material acquisition or financing transaction occurred between quarter end and the date of this synthetic report.

7. Selected Notes

Revenue recognition, impairment, credit-loss provisioning, and asset valuations are presented using simplified US GAAP-style concepts for training purposes. Figures are synthetic and may not sum due to rounding.
